BREAKING THE SILENCE ON DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

TRAINING DAY

Domestic Violence is a growing concern in our society and often presents major pastoral challenges. We believe it is important that the church equips leaders to face this issue with understanding and resources for the task.

Saturday May 25th
from 9am to 3pm

Christ College
1 Clarence St, Burwood NSW 2134

The day will be practical, and interactive with time for questions and working through case studies, so bring your questions and concerns.

BREAKING THE SILENCE ON DOMESTIC VIOLENCE TRAINING DAY

JOHN MCCLEAN

John lectures at Christ College, the theological College of the Presbyterian Church in Sydney; where he is also Vice-Principal. He teaches Systematic Theology and Ethics. He is married to Elizabeth and they live in Winmalee in the lower Blue Mountains. They have two young adult children. For relaxation and exercise John does some cycling.

SARAH BALOGH

Sarah Balogh is a Clinical Psychologist and experienced in many areas including foster care, educational settings and private practice. She currently works as a School Psychologist which she enjoys, but her ministry of being a wife to Akos, and mother to Luci, Mishka and Xavier is her priority. Sarah and Akos serve at Southern Cross Presbyterian Church, Lismore. Sarah enjoys basking in the ocean with her kids, or recharging with a cup of earl grey whilst singing a good gospel song...

Cost $45 - Includes morning tea and lunch.
