

Why Chaplaincy?

Chaplaincy is an expression of God's love and mercy to a hurting world. The world around us is not just fallen and broken; they are hurting and hopeless because they are broken. Chaplains bring hope to those who are in dire need of hope.

Research shows that as more Australians are seeking spirituality, they are more likely to meet a chaplain than a religious representative. Chaplaincy is an effective way to reach out to unbelievers, sharing the good news, and fulfilling the greatest command - to love God and love others.

“The work of a chaplain closely resembles that of a missionary – embracing the calling to serve others outside of the church setting.”

We Need Your Support

Although government subsidies and other support partially fund our Chaplaincy work, it is still insufficient to cover the full cost of placing our Chaplains in these settings and maintaining the team's infrastructure.

Our Chaplains need the help of faithful individuals and churches to provide the prayer and financial support to continue this ministry.

Stories

“Ever since you prayed with me last week, I have had a real sense that I’m not in this alone. I don’t know if it is God with me, but I just know I don’t feel so alone.”

- Patient’s Mother, Children’s Hospital at Westmead

“At the end of us reading Psalm 23, she remarked how that gave her such courage and confidence. We repeated the Psalm and I noticed tears sliding down the side of her face.”

- Christine, Jericho Road Chaplain at Prince of Wales Hospital

Our Chaplains

“My role as a Christian Chaplain is to be a listening ear in a momentous time, but also to bring the loving presence of Jesus through my actions, my listening, and my words.”

- Michael, Chaplaincy Coordinator at Westmead and RPA Hospital

Chaplaincy has been a ministry of Jericho Road for many years. Through Chaplaincy we have seen people serve in hospitals, prisons and in the wider community. The stories of lives transformed by God working through these ministries are remarkable, exciting and extremely encouraging.

An Introduction to
Pastoral & Spiritual Care

Presented by:
JOSEPH PARK
Jericho Road
Senior Chaplain

Do you have a heart to serve others in pastoral care and want to be better equipped?

This introductory program prepares participants to provide care for others in various settings such as their local church, home groups, families or as volunteers in the community.

Over four sessions, we will be exploring these questions, with both a theoretical and practical approach:

- What is pastoral and spiritual care?
- What is grief?
- What is mental health wellbeing?
- What is selfcare?

The course is offered both in-person and online. Visit our website to learn more about our upcoming courses and to register.
