

What's in a Name?

Just think of the Samaritan on the Road to Jericho. Just one man. Not an important man. Not a huge organisation with a complex plan of action to help all the needy in the world. But a man who had mercy on one who others had walked past. A man who took care of someone who otherwise would have had no care.

History

The first Social Service Committee of the Presbyterian Church in NSW was formed in 1912 to carry on the work being done by deaconesses at the Palmer Street Church in Woolloomooloo.

The work had formally begun in 1906, with the appointment of Miss Eva Holland as the state's first deaconess, to serve the needs of people living in one of Sydney's poorest neighbourhoods.

The social service ministries in the Presbyterian Church in NSW have changed and evolved over the course of the 20th century. Now as 'Jericho Road', God has shaped our little organisation into what it is today - a place where we do the big and small to support those in need!

Partnerships

We seek to encourage and partner with individuals and local churches so that they passionately seek to be obedient to God's call to love those who are in need.

It's a two way street. How can we support your local ministry?

We'd love to support you in your justice and mercy ministries.

Vision

Jericho Road seeks provide high quality and distinctively Christian care to all those in the community who are most vulnerable and who would otherwise be isolated from support.

Mission

Work with and for PCNSW to demonstrate the character of God by providing fresh hope and care for those who are in need, in a way that seeks justice, shows mercy, and makes Jesus known.

We'd love your ongoing prayer!

Our Ministries

CHAPLAINCY

Through Chaplaincy we see people serve in hospitals, prisons and in the wider community. Our Chaplains bring the hope of the Gospel into the places where most of us can't.

DISABILITY ADVOCACY

We aim to educate, equip, and encourage our churches to be more inclusive of people who have disabilities.

ALLOWAH CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

We deliver exceptional health, therapy and support services for children with complex disabilities and health care needs.

REFUGEE RESPONSE

We help your church welcome and engage with people from other backgrounds and cultures.

COUNSELLING

The Presbyterian Counselling Service can provide a referral or financial assistance for those in need of professional counselling or similar services.

EARLY CHILDHOOD SERVICES

We oversee Early Childhood Services based on Christian values where children are nurtured according to the Word of God.

EMERGENCY RESPONSE

We seek to assist, equip and support our churches to provide practical help to those in need in their local congregation and in the community around them.

We can demonstrate God's character of compassion and mercy to others through giving practical assistance in times of need.
